We have come to the end of our second week of the school year and I have already seen so much positivity and things to be proud of within school. Children from different year groups have been to my office to show me fantastic work which they have produced and are really proud of. Children have stepped up into their new year groups and shown a mature and responsible attitude to learning and behaviour.

It has been a big week for Year 6. They received their Year 6 ties yesterday which are a symbol of the responsibility they carry to set an example to the rest of the children in school in terms of respect and behaviour. They were extremely proud to receive these. Earlier in the week, Year 6 and Reception met their new 'Buddies'. Year 6 were so happy to meet our new Reception children, read with them, play with them and talk to them about what it is like to be a Christ the King child. They're going to have a great year together! Finally, we held interviews for candidates to be on our Junior Leadership Team earlier in the week. I was amazed by the quality of the applications for these positions as well as the answers children gave. We chose eight Year 6 children to be Junior Leaders for the year and announced it to Year 6 on Thursday afternoon. Well done to all children who applied.

Reception have settled into school really well. I have visited both Acorns and Conkers class this week to meet some of our new children and they have really put a smile on my face. There are some lovely polite and chatty new additions to our school community.

Next week things will start to get busier as we settle into the new school term. On Monday there is a meeting in school for Year 4 parents held in the school hall for First Holy Communion. On Thursday at 4 o'clock we have our first Cross Country race of the year held at Croxteth Park. On Friday we are holding our annual Macmillan Coffee Morning to raise money for Macmillan Cancer Support. Please see information about this event sent out earlier today.

Other events coming up later in the term include:

- School Open Evening for Intake 2026: 4-6:30
- Year 6 welcome meeting – 30th September
- Parish Mass in school – Monday 13th October

Please also be aware that the final day before half term (Friday 24th October) is an INSET day and school is closed for children on this day.

I hope you all have a refreshing weekend and I can't wait to see what next week will bring us.
